

- Prenatal Testosterone-levels are thought to be reflected in the right hand finger length ratio (2D:4D, index to ring finger)

- on average, masculine finger length ratios are smaller (more testosterone) than feminine ones

➡ Some sexually dimorphic personality traits will correlate with finger length ratios within each sex

Tendencies:

Male and Female

