

A mirror neuron is a neuron which fires both when acting and when observing the same action.

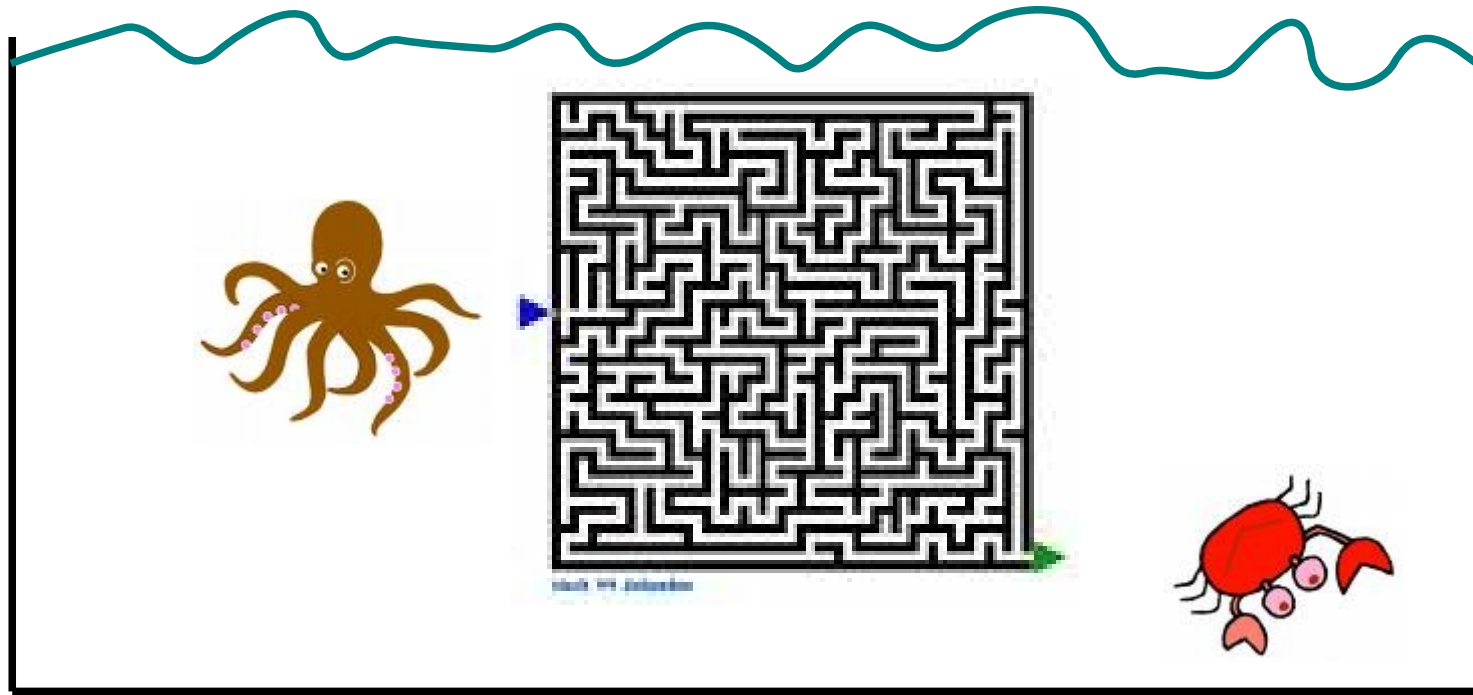

A mirror neuron is a neuron which fires both when acting and when observing the same action.

There are mirror neurons for conspecific observative learning...

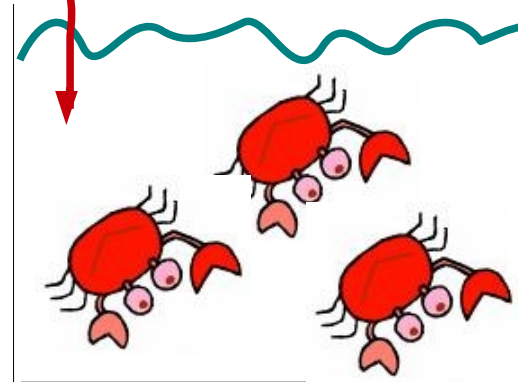

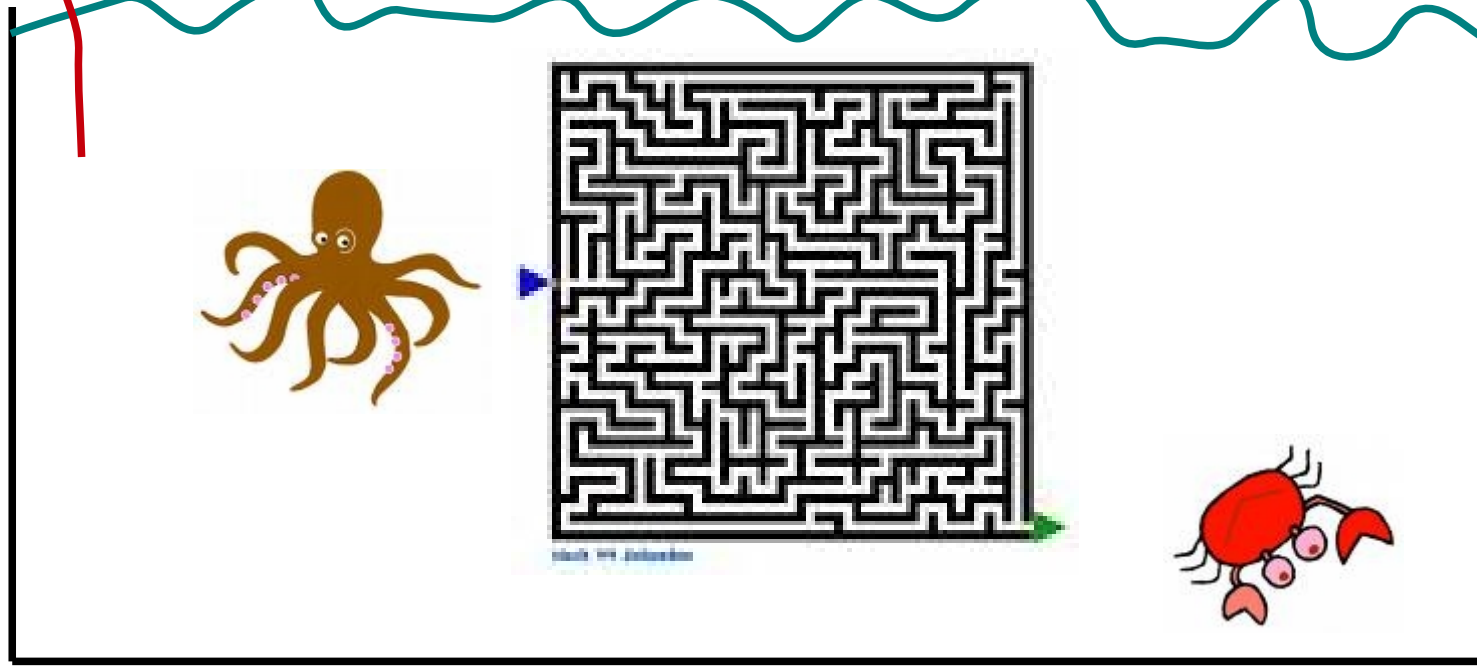

...and such for interspecific observative learning.

John Forsythe et al.
National Resource Center for Cephalopods

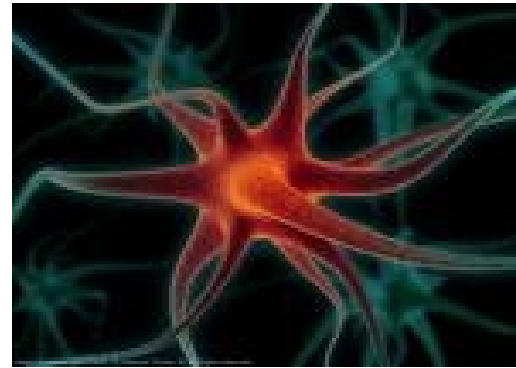

John Forsythe et al.
National Resource Center for Cephalopods

Pet owners

0

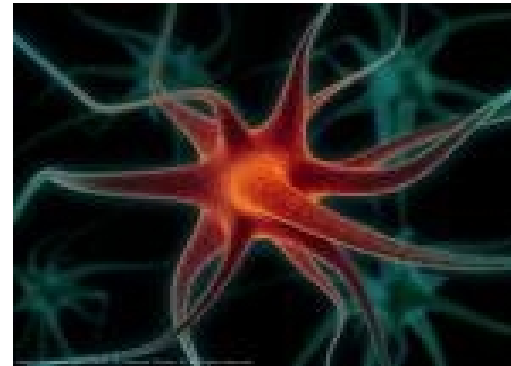

Neurons

1

Pet owners

0

Neurons

2